INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Marsh, the world's leading risk and insurance services firm, has a long history of providing insurance and risk management consulting services to the marine industry. Marsh's Marine Specialty Group has the resources, innovative approach, and specialized industry knowledge necessary to help your organization manage its risk.

CargoCover™ is the leading online cargo insurance application offering cargo and freight insurance solutions through Marsh and is underwritten by Liberty Mutual Insurance.

The ability for freight forwarders and logistics professionals to offer cargo insurance as part of their value-added services is an important differentiator and increases the scope of services you offer. Arranging cargo insurance for more shipments also helps to protect your Errors and Omissions insurance from liability claims.

CARGO INSURANCE COVERAGE FROM CARGOCOVER

Cargo insurance provides protection against all risks of physical loss or damage to goods from any external cause during shipping, whether by land, sea or air.

Our coverage includes options to insure from "warehouse to warehouse," irrespective of the number of subcontractors involved, and covers common carrier limitations such as: "Acts of God," terrorism, strikes, riots, and civil commotion risks.

OTHER NOTABLE FEATURES OF OUR COVERAGE:

- Subject to certain packing exclusions, this policy pays regardless of which carrier is ultimately responsible for the loss or damage.
- Includes coverage for General Average. Without cargo insurance, this event can have a frustrating economic impact on your customers, as they will be responsible to put up a bond to have their cargo released even if it is not damaged.

- Covers goods for the full value declared and will not be subject to the limitation of a carrier's bill of lading.
- If you are handling third party cargo, cargo insurance is a value added service that also helps you manage your cargo liability exposure, since our CargoCover solution does not subrogate against the party who arranged the cover.
- Protect your errors and omissions insurance from liability claims, as you are not absorbing the deductible applicable to each claim under your legal liability policy.
- Some carrier's liability is calculated based on the weight of the shipment, and may be limited to a few hundred dollars. With CargoCover, your client is fully protected and you will not have a claim made against your liability insurance.
- With full direct damage cargo insurance, the burden of proof of liability is waived and claims are handled directly between the insurer and the customer. Insurers then subrogate where possible.

Put simply, cargo insurance provides a cost effective way of covering your customer, as well as yourself for physical loss or damage to goods in transit. It provides added value to your customers and helps differentiate you from your competition.
